This is the place for documentation in regards to using the Compute2 Platform, part of RIS services and the future location of all RIS User Documentation. These documents are actively being developed and in flux.

11falsenonelisttrue

Getting Started

Compute2 Quickstart

The link below is to the compute2 quickstart guide to get you up and running relatively quickly. If you need more details than listed here, please see the individual page about each topic (Note: the individual pages are still in development).

Compute2 Quickstart

Transitioning Between slurm and LSF

The link below is for documentation on what syntax is similar or the same between slurm and LSF.

Transitioning Between slurm and LSF